

The information contained on this web site (the “Site”) is intended to inform members of the public generally about the business planning and consulting services provided by U.S. Business Services Corp., a Nevada corporation (the “Company”), and is not intended to provide solutions to individual problems. You are strongly advised to seek the assistance of qualified legal counsel in understanding and analyzing the information contained on the Site. Any information published on the Site, including, but not limited to, information regarding business immigration to the United States, is provided on an “as is” basis, for general information and education only, and is not guaranteed to be current, complete, or accurate. Any reliance on the information published on this Site is at the relying party’s own risk.

The Company is not a law firm and its personnel are not attorneys. The Company and its personnel do not provide or offer legal advice or legal services of any type whatsoever. The Company strongly suggests that you consult with a qualified attorney of your choosing regarding: (a) U.S. business immigration, including applications for a U.S. business visa; (b) the advisability of making, and the legal requirements relating to, your prospective investment in a new or existing United States business. Prospective applicants for a U.S. business visa are hereby advised that the outcome of any visa application is determined solely by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Service (“USCIS”) and or the Department of State Consular Posts. Your immigration-related questions, including questions about your application for a business visa, should be directed to a qualified immigration attorney and/or directly to the USCIS.

The Company and its personnel are not registered investment advisors and do not provide any direct investment advice, or any advice or counseling regarding investment in securities.

The Company hereby disclaims any responsibility for any actions taken as a result of any information displayed on its website. The Company has not audited, verified, or otherwise confirmed the information contained on the Site, and makes no representations, express or implied, with respect to the truth, accuracy, or completeness of that information, and therefore shall not be liable to any person or entity, directly or indirectly, on account of false, misleading, and/or inaccurate information contained on the Site.
